Notes I have checked this against Revised ed. 1, since I cannot obtain first ed. The above does not stand as an article in its own right. It is part of a general article by ~~the~~ [Ed?] entitled "An account of the most remarkable improvements and discoveries in physick, made or proposed since the beginning of the year." Rev. ed. 1. 5 II: 904-905. 1742. The title here is made up. Arrot is mentioned in connection with the bark. There is no description of the tree but Ed? indicates the description by Condamine in Mém. Acad. Sci. for 1738. Incidentally Vol. 5 is in 2 vols, each without numbered parts. Should the abbrev. ref. (if this is included as botanical matter) be 5-II: 904. 1731. and not 5(2).
