[appeared weekly; the 2d number is 12 Jan]

With references to plants used in the process:

Salsola kali, Brassica campestris L. The first is corrected, in a note on p. 256, to S. sativa, the second to B. oleracea. Also a reference to a plant called barrilla, source of soda. In vol. 2 (48): 340. 1797 [donor] in an anonymous letter, attention is called to the fact that along the coast of Granada there are 2 plants: one called soda, one barrilla. 2nd. Apr. 71
